Welcome to the Faculty of Medicine and Health Sciences.

Congratulations on making the decision to embark your personal and career development by joining the Bachelor of Nursing Programme with Honours, UNIMAS. Nursing education is transformative. It encourages aspiration, it instils confidence and self-worth, it opens the mind, and it offers new perspectives to you.

You have the opportunity to explore new knowledge in both theory and practice. The educational approach in this faculty is very much student centered as the trust of learning has become not so much to absorb facts and information but to develop the necessary skills to find new knowledge. You are challenged to acquire positive attitude, knowledge and skills and apply these to be a competent professional nurse.

During the course of your study, you will have the opportunity to be placed at hospitals, health centers and other organisations in the community. These placements are meant to expose you to various health care settings and support systems. You will learn to identify the factors that influence health and the needs of the population both in the rural as well as in the urban areas.

In addition to the core courses, you need to take the generic and elective courses. These courses are meant to widen your horizon so that you will be able to present yourself professionally.

In this handbook, there is a list of names of key-faculty personnel who will be able to assist you, so please do not hesitate to contact them.

I expect the time you spend in this faculty to be dynamic and rewarding. I wish you all the best in your endeavor.

6.4.1 Consideration for the Deferment of Registration

A student who is sick for an extended period can apply to the Dean of the Faculty to defer his/her registration. For all such cases, an appropriate verification from a registered medical doctor is required. In special cases where the verification is not from a registered medical doctor, application for postponement of registration can only be considered if the student has initially sought medical treatment. In psychiatric cases, approval for course re-registration will be subjected to the recommendation of the doctor involved.

The medical doctors who provide treatment and verification for students must be from the Ministry of Health, the University or from the University's panel of doctors. All decisions relating to such applications are made at the Faculty level.

6.4.2 Consideration for the deferment of sitting for examination

A student who is sick or faces other serious problems during the examination period must apply to the Dean of the Faculty to defer his/her sitting for the examination. However, any application for a deferment must be made within 48 hours of the examination.

7.0 SUBMISSION OF ASSIGNMENT AND PLAGIARISM

7.1 Guidelines / Reminders for Submission of Assignment BEFORE handing in your assignments

1. Check that you have met all of the General Presentation guidelines set out above.
2. PHOTOCOPY your assignment - You must make a photocopy of your assignment you prepare in case this is required for re-assessment or to replace an original, which may have gone astray.

Handing in your assignments

1. All assignments are to be handed in by/before the due date.
2. Assignments must be handed in either to the Course Coordinator concerned or to other lecturers specifically assigned by the Course Coordinator.

If you have handed in your assignment to an “assigned” lecturer, it is your responsibility to check with the Course Coordinator that your assignment has been received.

Extension of time to complete assignments

Assignments which are handed in beyond the due date may incur a penalty. However, extensions beyond the due date may be granted in extenuating circumstances. Special consideration may be given for health problems, compassionate reasons and other extenuating circumstances.

Students who wish to apply for an extension must do so personally from the Course Coordinator concerned. This should be done prior to the due date.

You are strongly advised to apply for an extension if there are genuine reasons why you cannot meet the due date specified for submission; do not risk incurring the penalty for late submission.

Penalties for late submission of assignments

The penalties below apply to all assignments hand in late, unless otherwise stipulated by the Course Coordinator concerned. The penalty will be deducted from the mark the assignment would have received had it not been late. Penalties are calculated as a percentage of the total marks available for the assignment as follows:

1 to 3 days	10%
4 to 7 days	20%
More than 1 week but less than 2 weeks	50%
More than 2 weeks	100%

For example: The total value of the assignment is marked and is scored at 15 out of 20 marks. It then incurs a penalty of minus 2 (10% of 20). The 2 marks are deducted from the marks of 15, giving a final score of 13 out of 20.

7.2 Plagiarism

Plagiarism is generally defined as the deliberate incorporation in an essay or paper of material drawn from the work of another person without proper acknowledgement. Paraphrasing without a citation is plagiarism.

All students enrolled in the Bachelor of Nursing with Honours programme will be issued with a Referencing Guide to assist them to acknowledge, in an academically appropriate way, all materials drawn from the work of other people (e.g. Provide a citation, either in the text or in a footnote, and either enclose their words inside quotation marks or put their words in a block of indented, single paced text).

The University, the Faculty and the Nursing Department view plagiarism very seriously. Plagiarism is an academic offence; it is also a legal issue. Any student who is found to have plagiarized will be severely penalized (for example, being barred from sitting for examinations, having passing grades cancelled, etc.)

8.0 ACADEMIC ADVISORS ONLINE SYSTEM

8.1 Purpose

The purpose of the UNIMAS ACADEMIC ADVISOR ONLINE SYSTEM is to provide guidance to students on academic matters and to foster a close and constructive professional relationship between students and the staff of the Faculty. While all lecturers in the Faculty are potentially academic advisors to all students who seek their advice, each lecturer is assigned particular responsibility to a small group of students.

8.2 Role of academic advisors are:

- a) Assist students to gain an understanding of the curriculum, the faculty's expectations of its students and the University's requirements (for example, in respect of its student course registration system);
- b) Provide advice and guidance to students regarding academic matters;
- c) Provide feedback and opportunities for reflective review following the release of end-of-semester results;
- d) Assist students in solving problems and, when necessary, refer them to an appropriate authority or resource person;
- e) Perform any other functions as required by the Faculty.

8.3 Responsibilities of students:

All students are required to meet with their academic advisors on a regular basis, to discuss their learning progress including any academic problems encountered. Students are required to meet their appointed academic advisors at least once per semester before they can print out the examination slips.

8.4 Implementation of the system:

Academic advisors and allocated students are expected to meet on a regular basis, approximately three to four times per year under normal circumstances. Appointments for meetings are usually arranged online for a time suitable to both. Each meeting is recorded online. Extra meeting appointment will be made with students as necessary.

9.0 STUDENT PERFORMANCE ASSESSMENT

9.1 Continuous Assessment

Students' progress is continuously monitored throughout the programme and feedback regarding their performance will be provided on a regular basis. In most courses, specified percentages of the marks from written assignments, seminar presentations and mid-semester examination (or periodic formative assessments contribute to the final marks for the course. This system values and rewards students' learning efforts throughout the semester rather than concentrating only on the outcome of one final examination. In addition to the assessment of knowledge, understanding and psychomotor skills, continuous assessment also takes into account students' attitudes, self-discipline and on-going patterns of learning behavior.

9.2 Final Assessment

In many courses, student's performances are assessed both continuously and by means of a final examination at the end of the semester.

Students are reminded to check the course assessment details for each semester's courses at the beginning of each semester. This information is set out in the course handbook. The relevant information is given to students at the beginning of each semester by the course coordinator.

9.3 Grading System

Unlike the other programmes in UNIMAS, the Bachelor of Nursing with Honours Programme has its exclusive grading system based on the Malaysian Nursing Board Standard Operating Procedure Guideline.

UNIMAS Nursing Programme Grading System

11.0 GENERIC & ELECTIVE COURSES

11.1 Generic Courses

Courses under this category are designed to develop students with positive attitudes and culturally acceptable behaviour and personality traits. These courses also encourage the development of a balance between autonomy and cooperation, assertiveness and working independently, without direction from higher authorities, and the willingness to work as a team member in achieving common objectives.

Generic courses are compulsory for all undergraduates at UNIMAS. They are also referred to as the “University Core Courses” (Kursus Teras Universiti), which underscores the fact that they are not trivial courses. Certain Generic courses will require that the student meet the minimum level of competency. Those that do not meet with these pre-requisites are required to take Remedial Courses (Kursus Pengukuhan). The current minimum number of credits required for Generic courses is 6 credits.

Transfer of credits may also be considered to a maximum of about a third of the total course credits for Generic Courses (i.e., up to 4 credits) provided that the student can supply evidence that he/she has previously attended similar courses with satisfactory results (i.e., at least the equivalent of grade B-) from institutions recognised by UNIMAS. Grades obtained in Generic courses are considered when calculating the student’s CGPA. Refer to Appendix A for details on the courses offered under this category.

11.2 Elective Courses

Elective courses are additional courses, which all UNIMAS students must take. These courses are aimed at enabling students to acquire reasonable in-depth knowledge in fields other than that of their chosen field. Consequently, University Elective courses are more challenging compared to the Generic courses.

Even though UNIMAS students can choose to take any course that interests them, students at FMHS are only allowed to choose from sets of courses that have been endorsed by the faculty. This is because the programmes at FMHS use a calendar system that is different from those used by the rest of the university. In addition, the nature of the training involved in the preparation of FMHS graduates makes it necessary that these courses are to be taken in an orderly and timely manner.

Students must complete a total of 3 credits. Grades obtained In University Elective courses are considered when calculating the student's CGPA.

Refer to Appendix file for details on the courses offered under this category. Further details on the sets of endorsed courses will also be provided during the orientation session at FMHS or on the faculty notice boards.

11.3 Remedial Courses (“Kursus Pengukuhan”)

Students that do not meet with the minimal requirements for Generic courses are required to take the following courses:

Course Code	Course Title
PBI 1112	Preparatory English, Level I
PBI 1122	Preparatory English, Level II

The objective of this category of courses is to strengthen/increase the students' level of proficiency/competency. Students will only get a Pass (L) or Fail (F). These courses are not considered in CGPA calculations.

Refer to Appendix A (Table no. 1-3) for details on the courses offered under this category.

The criteria for assessing whether a student meets the minimal requirements for Remedial Courses are as follows:

1) Malaysian University English Test (MUET)

All UNIMAS students who scored Band 1-2 in MUET will have to register for Preparatory English (Level 1) in Semester 1 of the new academic session.

Upon scoring a Pass (L) in Preparatory English (Level 1), the student must then register for Preparatory English (Level 2) in Semester 2

Those who scored Band 3-6 in MUET are allowed to skip the Preparatory English course and register for the English Generic courses.

Note:

If a student obtains Band 3-6 in another attempt at MUET, after entering UNIMAS, he/she can apply for an exemption from Preparatory English Level II, and advance to the English Generic courses.

All UNIMAS students are required to register and successfully complete the Preparatory English courses and/or two out of six Generic English courses during their studies at UNIMAS.

11.4 Registration For Generic and Elective Courses

- b) Non-verbal/Gesture – e.g. leering, ogling with suggestive overtones, licking lip provocatively, hand signals or sign language denoting sexual activity;
- c) Visual – e.g. showing pornographic materials, offensive images, drawing sex-based sketches or writing letters, sexual exposure;
